Date: 5 Jul 2010

Oman Air, the national carrier of the Sultanate of Oman has appointed Trawel Group as General Sales Agent (GSA) for Italy. This decision marks an important milestone in Oman Air's network expansion in Europe. Trawel is an integrated Group with a turnover of € 27 million and over 70 employees, and is also a leading GSA in Italy, providing services to various travel operators.

Mr. Abdulrazaq Alraisi, General Manager Worldwide Sales, Oman Air says:

"We are very pleased to be partnering with the Trawel Group who will be our representatives in the Italian market. By signing this agreement, we have added another milestone to Oman Air's business objectives. I am confident that inbound and outbound tourism, as well as commercial ties, between Oman and Italy will prosper greatly."

Carmine Principe, CEO of Trawel Group says:

"We are delighted to be appointed as the GSA for Oman Air in Italy, and also for the confidence they have placed in us. Oman Air represents the pinnacle of quality in the aviation industry due to its innovation and drive to succeed. We are confident that we will be able to successfully service Oman Air and their passengers and look forward to working together with Oman Air."

Marking a pioneering milestone in the history of aviation, Oman Air has become the first airline in the world to offer both mobile and Internet connectivity on board its flights.
