Oman Air reward top performing travel agent from Q3 2017 with a Mini Cooper

Date: 28 November 2017

Oman Air has announced the third winner of its popular quarterly incentive scheme for travel agents in Oman. Mr Tanveer Kazi of Marmul Travel & Tours was rewarded with a brand new Mini Cooper in recognition of his excellent sales in the third quarter of 2017.

The car was presented to Mr Kazi at the Oman Air HQ, by the Acting CEO, Eng. Abdulaziz Al Raisi. The Country Manager for Oman Air, Mr Jamal Al Azki, who was instrumental in executing this reward scheme said: "This incentive scheme is aimed at encouraging travel agents to achieve higher sales for Oman Air. It was gratifying to see the high levels of sales this quarter and agents have worked hard selling a high number of Oman Air flights. This quarter's winning agent can be proud of his excellent achievement in encouraging even more people to fly with our airline."

The winner, Mr Kazi said: "I am delighted to accept this very generous award, and initiatives like this are very motivating for those of us working in the tourism sector. I would like to thank Oman Air sincerely for pioneering such a rewarding scheme. I enjoy the challenge of my job every day, searching for the best travel value for my customers at Marmul Travel & Tours. Oman Air products are a pleasure to promote and the fact that the airline has over 180 flights every day to key destinations around the world definitely help make our targets more achievable."

Marmul Travel & Tours is one of the top travel operators in Oman who offers competitive prices, and good customer services. They were founded in 1988 and have earned their title as one of the most well respected travel agencies operating in Oman. They have a host of branches conveniently located across the country, and this has made them a trusted agency for many travellers.

This exciting scheme is another opportunity for Oman Air to extend a hand of good will and recognise those travel agents who have shown loyalty to the airline by generating maximum sales. The scheme rewards the best-selling travel agent for each quarter with a Mini Cooper, which comes in addition to the support that Oman Air already offers agencies for training and joint marketing.
