

<https://www.omanair.com/en/about-us/press-releases/oman-air-starts-its-summer-training-program-sultan-qaboos-university>

Oman Air starts its summer training program for Sultan Qaboos University students

Home > Printer-friendly PDF > Oman Air starts its summer training program for Sultan Qaboos University students

Allied with its national obligation, Oman Air has constantly made immense efforts, in the direction of enriching skills and knowledge of further education Colleges students, through intended training programmes making available an opportunity of combining their intellectual studies, jointly with practical training, making them responsive with the professional work environment. This year, 10 students from Sultan Qaboos University have already started their summer training at various departments within Oman Air.

Mr. Saleh bin Abdullah Al Zadjaly, Manger Training Center Oman Air said ,“The company is likewise providing summer or winter training for different universities and colleges students, through tailored programs to make them common with the company’s activities.

He added saying, “our training center is in direct coordination with the faculty of Arts & Social studies “Tourism Section” at the Sultan Qaboos University, to absorb the largest figure of university students, specializing in tourism. This would assist them to gain practical experience to complement with their theoretical studies by learning the basic skills whereby, become qualify to fulfill the local market work requirements.

`dataLayer.push({ 'WYPageID': 'SubPages' });`