Six Senses Spa at Al Bustan Palace

A beachfront sanctuary to awaken your senses

Six Senses Spa at Al Bustan Palace in Oman is artfully built into the surrounding landscape of towering stone and rock cliffs of the Hajjar Mountains and follows the natural progression of the wadi (valley).

Reflective of traditional Omani design, the luxury spa in Muscat beautifully complements the hotel and features domed ceilings, elegant arched walkways and columns, falaj (water channels) reflecting pools and natural stone walls and floors.

Six Senses Spa at Al Bustan Palace is the second in the Sultanate and presents treatments tailored to individual needs. Measuring 33,000 square feet, the spa is housed on three levels - similar to an ancient Arabian fort, featuring three areas: separate men's and women's areas and ladies only private club and pool. The luxury spa features 17 treatment rooms, wet facilities with saunas, infrared saunas, Ice Shower (ladies only) and steam rooms, a fitness area and yoga studio, as well a natural juice station, a gallery shop and a relaxation area.
